

CONSENT FORM – HOLDING YOUR PERSONAL DATA

Name of project: Evaluation of the 'Home and Belonging' Initiative

In order for us to hold your personal data we need to obtain your consent. We will rely on this consent as the legal basis for holding your personal data.

What personal data we need to obtain and will hold

Your name
Your date of birth
Your email address
Your telephone number
The local authority in which you live

What we will do with your personal data

We will use the personal data you provide us with solely for our project, "Evaluation of the 'Home and Belonging' Initiative". We will use this personal data to contact you in relation to this project. Your personal data will be held securely, in line with our data protection policy. We will not share your personal data with anyone outside of Children in Scotland and Staf.

What if you change your mind about Children in Scotland holding your personal data?

If you change your mind at any point you can contact our lead on this project, David Mackay, dmackay@childreninScotland.org.uk or the Children in Scotland data controller, dataprotection@childreninScotland.org.uk and we will action your request. Click here to view Children in Scotland's privacy policy. You can find more details of your data protection rights in this document and how you can exercise them.

How long will we hold your personal data for?

We will hold your personal data on file until 1 December 2019; at this point your personal data will be removed from our system.

My consent

I have read the information contained in this document and the attached privacy policy and give my consent for Children in Scotland to hold the above personal data.
